

Dawlish Warren Railway Station to the Langstone Cliff Hotel

Dawlish Warren station is unmanned and is located around 400 metres from the Langstone Cliff Hotel. You can be met from the station by arrangement. Please telephone us on 01626 868000 or you may walk to the hotel.

There are 2 platforms at Dawlish Warren station the Seaward side receives trains from London and the north, the inland platform receives trains from Plymouth and the south.

To get to the Langstone Cliff Hotel walk off the platform and proceed down the slope towards the road. From London and the north you will need to proceed under the rail bridge turning away from the sea. See the green lines on the map.

Red Route

Just beyond the roundabout on Beach road is a junction you may walk straight up the hill approx 100 metres following the red track on the map, pass the Mount Pleasant Inn on the left. Proceed approximately 100 metres passed the Mount Pleasant Inn the Hotel driveway is clearly marked on the Left.

Blue Route

Alternatively once past the roundabout you may follow the public footpath on your left following the blue route on the map and walk approximately 60 metres up the gently sloping path, past St. Marys Church Hall. Proceed approximately another 80 metres with the public car park on your left turn the corner and the hotel entrance is marked on your right after about 20 metres.

The blue route is a little shorter follows a much shallower slope but is a little more uneven than the red route it is also unlit after dark.

The red route is steeper follows the main road and is lit after dark.
